

HOOF BEATS, HEARTBEATS
by Shari Click

The hoof beats are pounding through the dark foggy night, the horses are leading the way.
My heartbeat is pounding
my chest is so tight, but my trust pulls me closer to day.

The hoof beats keep pounding through the first rays of dawn, the fog now is starting to lift.
My heartbeat is pounding
it's out of my throat,
the horses are bringing a gift.

The hoof beats are pounding
so strong and so sure,
they're taking me down a new road.
My heartbeat is pounding
but I'm seeing some light, they're helping to carry my load.

The hoof beats are pounding
we're out in the clear, the horses keep moving me on.
My heartbeat is pounding
now rhythmic and soft,
my fear and anxiety gone.

The hoof beats are pounding
and so is my heart,
I'm feeling so joyous and strong.
The horses are taking me where I must go,
down the trail that is sunny and long.
